

EADV/ESDR Summer Research Workshop

“Mouse models in skin research”
22-26 July, 2013, Cologne, Germany

Course chairs Profs

- Cornelia Mauch (ESDR)
- Carien Niessen (ESDR)
- Thomas Krieg (EADV)
- Erwin Tschachler (EADV)
- Nick Reynolds (ESDR)

Application deadline: 18 March, 2013

Number of places: 25

Course language: English

Objectives of the course:

aimed at Dermatology Residents/Trainees who have:

- An interest in pursuing research but have not yet undertaken a substantive block of research time.
- Want to learn basic molecular and cell biology techniques necessary for mouse models for skin disease
- Want to learn how to present a paper/own research

Selected applicants receive:

- A free of charge course with hands-on experience in research techniques, seminars/lecture and an opportunity to present at a Journal club or research seminar.
- Educational material, certificate of attendance, free accommodation, catering and a social event (dinner) during the course.
- EADV/ESDR members are eligible to receive educational grant.